Next.js + Supabase + Stripe Developer — SaaS Builder, AI prototypes to production

"Professional, reliable, and solution-oriented, with the ability to work autonomously in a demanding and fast-paced environment."

"We would like to thank Ignacio for his work and professionalism throughout his collaboration as a Full Stack Developer. From the beginning, he showed a great attitude, strong collaboration skills, and an excellent ability to adapt to a fast-moving, product-driven team environment. His contribution was especially valuable in areas such as integrating prototypes into Next.js, transforming hardcoded elements into dynamic logic, connecting systems with Supabase, and building key backend functionalities for the project. Beyond his technical skills, we would also like to highlight his clear communication, commitment to team goals, and the great working relationship maintained throughout the collaboration."

Full-Stack Interactive Kiosk Experience for Live Art Exhibition

“His communication is incredibly fast, and his development skills are top-notch.”

“This was our second time working with Ignacio. Throughout the second phase of the project, he continued to demonstrate great responsibility and ownership. His communication is incredibly fast, and his development skills are top-notch. Ignacio makes us feel like a true member of our team now I hope he feels the same! You should definitely work with him before he’s fully booked. Looking forward to Phase 3!”

Full-Stack Developer for Minimal 3-Menu Web App

"Ignacio is not just a "task taker," but a true collaborator."

"I'd like other clients to know that Ignacio is not just a "task taker," but a true collaborator. He understands complex, research-driven and artistic briefs, asks smart questions, and proactively suggests improvements without derailing the original vision. If you care about clarity, reliability, and thoughtful execution, you'll feel very safe working with him."
